

Occasionally, there was a fleeting moment of clarity.

As the text reveals, SEARCH is about an “inner” journey over time and the changes in consciousness experienced along the way. I wanted to convey a sense of urgency and purpose through the actions of a figure (myself) in a variety of situations, either found or composed. Although there are “moments of clarity”, no complete answers are found and the search for meaning and understanding (an ongoing struggle) continues indefinitely.