

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many hands contributed to production of this journal, and we are extremely grateful. Our thanks to the ongoing support of Kevin Stranack and the folks at the Public Knowledge Project for providing us with the online platform that keeps us organized, and the support to go with it. Thank you to Anna Reva and Nancy Mah at the Simon Fraser Student Society for guiding us through the financial and printing logistics with grace and generosity. Perhaps most importantly, our sincere thanks to the wonderful group of graduate students and professors who provided us with their time and expertise as peer reviewers this year. We are immeasurably grateful. Finally, a big thank you to the generous sponsors who provided us with the means to make this a reality:
