

A Colloquium on Digital Media, Public Sphere, & the Development of Digital Systems

November 8-9, 2015
Simon Fraser University
Vancouver Campus (Room 3100)

Welcome Reception – November 8, 2015 (1700-2000) – Bowen Island

Colloquium – November 9, 2015 (0900 - 1630) – Room HC 3100, Harbour Centre

Opening (0900) Dean of the Faculty of Communication, Art and Technology, Dr. Aoife MacNamara

Session 1 Public Engagement, Technology, and Governance (0910 - 1030)

Chair – Adam Holbrook

Lee Young Hee – “An Evaluation of Participatory City Planning: A Focus on “Seoul Plan.”

Lee Yun-Jeong and Chung In-Kyoung – “Instrumental Perspectives in Public Engagement for Science and Technology Governance.”

Jin Dal Yong – “Corporate sphere vs. Public sphere in Korea's handset subsidy policy: how to interpret civic engagement in the age of the smartphone.”

Session 2 Creating Digital Opportunity: the software cluster (1050 – 1210)

Chair: Dal Yong Jin

Adam Holbrook – “The dark matter of the software cluster in Vancouver”

Lim Jong-youn – “Expert comments on the software cluster in Vancouver”

Ben Anderson – “Contingent labour and the fun workplace”

Lunch (1210 - 1400)

Session 3 From Science Policy to Technology Policy: four case studies (1400 - 1530)

Chair – Ji Hoon Park

Lee Chang-ho – “A Comparative Study of Korean and Chinese Adolescents' Use of Online Games”

Byron Hauck – “Rural Wired Radio: Outside, inside and gone”

Sibo Chen – “Tool of Emancipation or Domination? Debating the Contentious Nature of China's Online Environmental Activism.

Nicole Stewart – “To Upvote or Downvote: Parental Supervision of Screen Time on Reddit.”

Discussion of research plans and proposals (1540-1630)

Organizers

Centre for Policy Research on Science & Technology, SFU

Center for Science, Technology & Democracy,

The Catholic University of Korea

Sponsors

School of Communication, SFU

Faculty Communication, Art, & Technology, SFU

National Research Foundation of Korea

SFU School of Communication